

Penguin Class Newsletter

Messages

This week, Year 3 took part in a Road Safety workshop focused on being safe pedestrians. We talked about staying alert near roads, choosing safe places to cross, and ways to keep ourselves visible, especially as evenings get darker.

We also held our School Council elections. After a fair class vote, Sonny and Lily were chosen to represent our class for this year. Congratulations to them, and well done to everyone who took part!

English

This week, we finished Leon and the Place Between and have started our new text, The First Drawing. We explored what life might have been like in the Stone Age and compared it to life today, using fronted adverbials to show time in our sentences. The children's storybooks look brilliant, with such care and imagination on every page!

Maths

Children have been working so hard on addition using different methods: counting forwards, using number lines, and setting out column addition. We've begun adding 1s, 10s, and 100s to three-digit numbers and have now started to look at subtracting 1s, 10s, and 100s.

Science

We continued our Rocks topic, discovering that rocks can change over time. We've been investigating their properties and classifying different types based on what we observe.

PSHE

In Being Me in My World, we discussed why rules matter and the importance of following them to keep everyone safe and happy.

News

Academic Excellence

Well done to the following children who have been our 'Workers of the Week' in recent weeks:
